Davis Says U.S. May Abandon Neutrality

(Special to the Nugget)

GENEVA, May 22—(UP)—The United States is prepared to abandon neutrality in the event peace is menaced, Norman H. Davis, Rooselevt's personal representative, told the general commission of the World's Arms Conference today.

Calling on nations to abolish aggressive weapons, Davis said the United States is prepared to consult with other nations and if through consultation, it is proved that one nation is guilty of aggression, the United States will agree to abstain from all action tending to block any collective effort which nations might take to restore peace, provided the United States approved the judgment rendered by the nations.

NEVADA CITY HI BAND CONTEST SCORE NEAR TOP

A report just received by L. E. Sweeney, Nevada City high school music director, gives the complete rating of the local band in its recent contest with other state high school bands in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco on May 13.

In all classes, A. B, and C, only three bands exceeded the score of the Nevada City high school band, Class C, which scored 88.125. Tracy in Class B, scored 89.65, and in the same class Martinez scored 89.1. In Class C, Lakeport scored 93.25. The Class A winner, Hayward, scored but 87.85.

The Nevada City band, considering it was first time it has played in such a contest, made a remarkable showing in that it exceeded in total score the winner in Class A and came very close to the score of the winner in Class B.

The ratings of the bands are fixed on a basis of the number of students in the high school which the band represents.

DRUNKEN DRIVER MUST ANSWER

Robert Atkinson charged with driving while intoxicated was given his preliminary hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace Oscar Winburn this morning in Grass Valley. He was held to answer in the Superior Court and his bail was set at $1,000.

Atkinson was arrested in Hills Flat by Traffic Officer Quinn on May 18.

The charge of reckless driving against A. O. McGinty, who pleaded not guilty, and demanded a jury trial, was reduced to speeding, to which he pleaded guilty. He was fined $25, which he paid. McGinty was arrested by Traffic Officer Will Fouyer while traveling at 70 miles an hour on May 4.

NATIVE SONS TO GIVE FLAGS TO DOWNIEVILLE

Now that the Convention of Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, which was held in the city of Grass Valley last week, is over a spirit of satisfaction is manifest among Native Sons and daughters, that all traditions of hospitality were fully exemplified in the three cities of Grass Valley, Nevada City and Downieville. Through all the storms and clouds the three cities with many honors heaped upon them by the delegates.

Those taking an active part are still receiving letters of appreciation from visitors.

Owing to the inclement weather at Downieville last Wednesday it was impossible to have men, women and children out in it for the presentation of the flags of the nation and the state to the school children.

It was decided that a special envoy, Chester Gannon, grand histriographer, should come up at a later date and present the flag at a special occasion when the sun is shining brightly.

THIRD C. C. C. GROUP TO GO TO BEAR VALLEY

Twenty five more young men, from the Conservation Civilian Corps concentration camp at San Francisco, arrived Saturday, were quartered temporarily in the vacant State Employment camp, and were due to leave today for Bear Valley, where work on the second C. C. C. camp in the Tahoe National Forest area, will get under way this week. Edgar E. Barker of this city will have charge of the camp in Bear Valley.

Work on the North Bloomfield camp is progressing at a rapid rate, and it is expected to have that camp ready for occupancy by the end of the week.

YUBA FISH HATCHERY PLANTS 180,000 FRY

From the Yuba River State fish hatchery, during the past week, 180,000 young trout have been planted. Game Warden Ray O'Connor has charge of the work, and has planted 30,000 fry in the North Fork, 20,000 in the vicinity of Goodyear's Bar, 30,000 in the North Yuba, 30,000 in the Middle Fork near Oregon Creek, and 30,000 in the South Yuba above Washington.

TRUE SPIRIT OF HOSPITALITY SHOWN IN BARBER SHOP

Nothing illustrates Nevada county hospitality so well as an incident which occured last Monday in Grass Valley. A Native Son delegate to the grand parlor, rushed into a crowded barber shop, fifteen minutes before the convention was to open. He looked around and remarked that he guessed he would have to miss the opening.

A half shaved man, reclining in one of the barber's chairs sat up, and quickly said: You can have my place. I'm in no hurry." Others, also in a state of facial dishabile, offered the Native Son their places. With a great sigh, the visitors sank into the first offered chair, and remarked: "I never saw anything like this happen anywhere else."

HOOVER DENIES ANY INTEREST IN COMSTOCK MINE

L. E. Corey, purchasing agent for the Western Empire Gold Mines, Inc., of Virginia City, was in Nevada City Saturday and after attending to business here left for Virginia City.

He stated that Virginia City and Silver City presented a busy scene. The Western Empire Gold Mines, Inc., have four properties in operation in different sections around Virginia City and Silver City with about 40 men employed at the mine nearest that town. These properties are quartz and the veins are of considerable width with a yield of good values in gold and silver.

There are about 200 men employed in the mines around Virginia City and the same at Silver City, which are about four miles apart.

It will be remembered that Ex-president Herbert Hoover and Ex-Scretary Ogden Mills, recently visited this territory and Ogden Mills purchased the old Virginia City and Truckee railroad.

Over the raido station, K.N.X. Hollywood, at nine o'clock last night a telegram was read from former president Hoover stating he had no interest in the Comstock area, although it had been rumored that he had acquired large holdings there along with Mills.

Tax Revision Plan Now Up To People

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, May 22—(UP)—With the realization that its major task lies ahead of it, California's 50th legislature has recessed after three and one half month' toil during which it considered 3,634 bills and 169 constitutional amendments.

MALARKEY

Legislators will return for a mid-summer session July 17 to pass a budget balancing and real property relief program. In the meantime, the electorate will go to the polls June 27 and decide whether the legislature's tax revision program shall be accepted.

The people's verdict on the tax revision plan will guide the legislature at the mid-summer session. The program calls for an "advisory vote" on the gas tax diversion issue; proposed repeal of amendment "number 1"—the state's separation of sources tax system; limitation of governmental cost and relieving the counties of the fixed elementary and high school charges.

DEFICIT $50,000,000

The legislature's program, contingent on approval of the tax revision program, is for raising approximately $43,000,000 to apply against the state's estimated current biennium and ensuing biennium deficit of over $50,000,000. It also includes levying a two per cent consumers sales tax which would raise $45,000,000 in two years. This revenue would be used to relieve counties' fixed school charges of $30 per elementary pupil and $60 per high school pupil.

Emergency relief to relieve economic distress in business and home alike was a major legislative accomplishment. Bills helping moratorium; mortgage foreclosure moratorium; emergency bank and building and loan association relief bills; $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue which will be on the June 27 election ballot; 30-hour week public works bill; irrigation district moratorium providing limited payment of obligations; a constitutional amendment providing quake damaged property should be reassessed on the basis of present valuation; revision of deficiency judgment legislation; repeal of obnoxious special assessment legislation and many other relief bills of less importance.

COSTS CUT $40,000,000

The legislature pared expenses to the bone and finally turned out a $246,770,000 budget, thus reducing state government cost approximately $40,000,000 under the present biennium. The governor's original budget was $258,000,000. The assembly cut it to $241,000,000 whereupon the upper house upped it about $6,000,000.

Few new revenue measures were passed. That disagreeable task will be undertaken, in the main, during the summer session. But the legislature did increase utility taxation $6,000,000 for the biennium; banks $3,000,000; trucks $1,500,000 and tightened up on payment of personal property tax on automobiles, thus bringing in an additional $1,250,000.

The assembly killed many school and governmental economy measures sent over by the senate. Almost the entire economy program offered by the senatorial fact finding committee—approved with alacrity by the senate—was voted down in the assembly. Moreover a cluster of drastic bills aiming to cut down the cost of education were defeated with equal emphasis by the lower house. Even revision of teachers' tenure was killed, after the bill had reached the very threshold of passage. Most important school measure passed included one giving boards of supervisors right of review of school budgets, and raising the kindergarten age from 4½ to five years of age.

The fact finding bills would have eliminated many governmental offices and provided for widespread consolidations and economies.

PEOPLE TO DECIDE WATER ISSUE

The legislature agreed to submit to the people the constitutional amendment empowering the state to undertake the state water plan. It also approved measures to submit for vote a $30,000,000 veterans farm and home purchasing bond issue and the $55,000,000 irrigation refinancing bond issue. The $160,000,000 bond issue to finance the Great Central Valley water project first unit of the state water plan, was passed by the assembly and will be considered by the senate during the mid-summer session.

Progressive and liberal legislation was, in the main, passed by the assembly and killed in the conservative senate. Such was the fate of the anti-capital punishment, the Chatters county "Home Rule," the Free prim-

THE CHALLENGE

I give you our leader's slogan,—
"Peace and Prosperity;"
The dream of incredulous ages,
A challenge to you and to me.
Shall we accept it bravely
For the sake of a war wrecked world,
Till the ominous drums are silenced,
And the battle flags are furled?

I give you our leader's courage—
His freedom of thought and of will;
Let us rally around him boldly
For a pull up the rugged hill;
And then if he stumble or falter,
Sustain him with faith and love,
Till the cohorts of darkness are vanquished
And the day star shines above.

I give you a wonderful vision
Of a time when war shall cease,
And the children of men turn gladly
To the glorious arts of peace;
When science shall lead earth's races
To knowledge and power and health,
And the gifts of the mind and spirit
Be counted a nation's wealth.

I give you our place in the picture,
Our part in the gracious plan,
Are we wise enough to assume it?
Will each of us play the man?
Then ours be the wonderful slogan—
"Peace and Prosperity,"
For the dream of incredulous ages
Is a challenge to you and to me.

HOIST INSTALLED AT CANADA HILL

Gratifying progress is reported at the Canada Hill property of West Mines Corporation where Mr. Orlando McCraney is rapidly pushing the work toward early production from the famous old mine. A new electric 50 horse-power hoist has been set and the general lay-out of surface equipment is rapidly taking shape. The old shaft has been cleared and retimbered for 180 feet and pump set in the bottom. Pumping has begun. Foundations for the 125 horsepower compressor are being prepared and the compressor is to be delivered within a few days.

The pump in the shaft is now discharging the lift water from the drain tunnel level to the surface. The permanent sinking pump has been ordered and delivery is expected shortly and it should be ready by the time the cleaning out has been completed. Buildings are under construction for housing the machinery and the whole program for resumption from this historic mine may now be considered well under way.

PROUD SPEEDER PAYS $15 MORE THAN NEEDED

C. R. Norris of Grass Valley appearing in the court of Justice of the Peace, Oscar Winburn this morning pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $25, of which the judge suspended $15. Norris dug into his jeans and produced a fat roll. He peeled off five $5 bills and handed them to the clerk, remarking that he had rather pay the whole amount than have $15 hanging over him. The court, the spectators, the deputy district attorney, and the clerk looked on in amazement. For of course the $15, suspended, depending upon good behavior upon the highways, would never have had to be paid.

RILEY TO TAKE STUMP IN TAX RELIEF MEASURE

State Controller

SACRAMENTO, May 22—(UP)—State Controller Ray L. Riley, California's apostle for real property tax relief and revision of the state tax system, is planning on an intensive state speaking tour in support of the Riley-Stewart plan -which will come before the people for vote June 27.

True, the program that the legislature finally approved, is considerably different from the proposed tax revision originally drafted by the controller and submitted to the lawmakers. However, some of its basic principles remain.

COMPROMISES MADE

Riley, not in the best of health, has worked day and night for months in support of his tax revision program. Rather than see the entire plan go overboard, he suggested to his legislative supporters that they compromise on major points.

The brunt of the speaking tour will be borne by Riley, Fred Stewart member of the board of equalization and Dixwell Pierce, state tax research bureau expert.

The program which bears Riley's name includes the following visions:

1—Repeal of the so-called amendment number 1, thus returning to local government tax rolls $1,900,000 actual value of public utility property.

2—Assumption by the state of the county arbitrary matching school cost requirements of $30 for elementary schools and $60 for high schools per pupil. This would relieve local taxpayers $37,000,000 in taxes annually and cut the tax rate $0.71.

INCREASES RESTRICTED

3—Limitation of local governmental costs—cities—counties and districts—to a five per cent increase annually for the next two years. Limitation of state government cost to a five per cent increase for the next two years.

In Iasmuch as no opposing vote was registered against submitting the plan to the people, a "no" argument against the program will not appear on the ballot. The "yes" argument bears the name of 19 state senators. It reads in part:

"Ownership of property has become a liability and progress toward recovery is impossible unless this situation is corrected at an early date.

President Roosevelt's action in setting forth his views on araments and peace is a message to 54 nations is regarded by some California editors as a courageous attempt to promoting world harmony.

Others, however, while designating the move as commendable, recall the unsuccessful efforts of Woodrow Wilson 15 years ago and express doubt that any desirable results will be accomplished.

"The American executive's message," said the Stockton Record, "as direct and simple as those he has given for domestic consumption, is specifically addressed to the rulers of the nations. But its plea for success of the economic and disarmament conferences as a means of affecting 'the happiness, the prosperity, and the very lives of the men, women and children who inhabit the whole world,' is a message for the peoples rather than their leaders. If it reaches the rank and file without distortion by governmental heads, the appeal of this new leader in world affairs should have real influence."

"The President's proposal is neither a 'holier-than-thou' attitude nor an unwarranted assumption of the power his country holds in the affairs of the world," remarked the El Centro Imperial Valley Press. "It is nothing more than a statemen that right is right, that peace is right and that war is wrong, and an invitation to the nations of the world to recognize his truth ad abide by it."

According to the Merced Sun-Star, "wherever his message reaches it will become the ralyying cry for enlightened millions who see all modern civilization now at the edge of an engulfing crevasse, who would end this cycle of international bloodshed and misery and oppression by striking at the economic cause which lies beneath. In most lands, unfortunately, the message will fall short of its real object. Only in England and America among all the great nations does freedom of speech and of the press still remain to the degree that such an utterance may be sure of its goal."

"Maybe the dark forces that have been gaining in strength of late will not give heed to those words," said the Salinas Index Journal, "but at least this country can have pride in the knowledge that the hand of its president was decisively raised in the hope of averting disaster. Much remains to be done if the dream of peace is to be realized. More and more does it become apparent that our "splendid isolation' from the family of nations must be abandoned if we are to exert effective, continued influence to prevent war, and to bring amity and understanding in time of peace to all nations."

"Some will critize and say that it will ultimately be the means of bringing about a war," comments the San Jose News. "That is not the intent or purpose. He plainly states that any nation refusing to enter into his agreement immediately goes on record as being against peace and, therefore, the other nations will know how to deal with that particular nation.

Warning that "the president needs to watch his step," the Sacramento Bee adds:

"Once our country is involved in the turmoils and conflicting aims and purposes of the old world, no one can foresee the sea of troubles into which the ship of state will be plunged."

NEW REASON FOR EACH REPRIEVE OF CONDEMNED

STACRAMENTO, May 22—(UP)—As a fabricator of strange excuses to put off executions, Governor J. Rolph probably has no peer in the United States.

Flimsy and often humorous reasons are advanced by the chief executive as reasons for granting reprieves to condemned criminals, awaiting in a death cell the final call of the executioner.

Last reason the governor offered was his brother William's wedding anniversary.

Albert Fuller was scheduled to die at San Quentin June 9. Suddenly the governor recalled the anniversary.

"It wouldnt be right to hang a man on my brother's anniversary," he observed seriously, and promptly set the execution date ahead a week.

Here are a few sample explanations of why reprieves were granted in recent cases:

Because the execution was set for St. Patrick's day.

Because the day set for the hanging was the condemned man's birthday.

Because an execution was scheduled for Good Friday.

Because the bank holiday was in effect.

Because the governor had difficulty in sleeping. (This time he arose at 2 a. m. after tossing fitfully in his bed for hours, came down to his office, and after discussing and deliberating over the matter, granted the reprieve.)

Because an accomplice had been granted a reprieve.

Practically every murderer can expect at least a 30-day reprieve. The first extension is granted for a logical reason. The governor announces he wants additional time in which to investigate the case. It is the second and third and so on when the peculiar reasons are advanced.

If there were an execution every week, there would be little business transacted in the governor's office. The chief executive frets and stews and worries constantly. Last few nights before any condemned man steps "off the deep end," likely as not the governor cannot sleep. If and when an anti-capital punishment bill is ever passed, the happiest man in the state will be the governor.

TAX RELIEF

ary, unemployment insurance and criminal syndicalism bills. The last named would have provided that mere membership in an organization designed to overthrow the government would not be constituted a criminal offense. The legislature did, however, pass the pari-mutuel horse race betting bill only to have it vetoed by the governor. The measure was then passed again in the form of a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people. It also passed "yellow dog" bill after first amneding out its anti-injunction clause.

COUNTY ROAD TAX RELIEF

The secondary state highway bill whereby 6,600 miles of existing and contemplated road would be added to the state highway system passed. The measure also provided cities would receive an additional quarter of a cent of the gas tax for street repair and maintenance.

Outside of the reduced budget, primary economies included the $4,500,000 biennial reduction in state employes' salaries, the drastic cut in superior judges' salaries and abolition of over 40 jobs held by special state attorneys.

The session was complicated by a running fight between the legislature and the governor. This was intensified by the Inman investigating committee reports which charged maladministration in several state departments. Climax of this phase of the legislative-executive battle came when first the governor answered the Inman committee and, the next day, the committee members bitterly criticised on the senate floor Rolph and his administration. For the first time in over 40 years, the legislature overrode a governor's veto. Three county government bills he had disapproved were passed despite his disapproval.

Fundamental differences between senate and assembly killed much legislation. The upper house was rural, conservative and almost fanaticaly economical. The lower house was liberal, progressive, urban-controlled and not as "economy minded" as the senate.

CAMPTONVILLE REPORTS BUILDING ACTIVITY

CAMPTONVILLE, May 18—Considerable activity is noted locally in the building line. Ross C. Zaring, whose home was destroyed by fire during the snow, is erecting a new modern home on his lot on upper Main street, which will be a very good addition to the town.

H. C. Harmon, who formerly resided here, returned a short time ago, purchased a lot on Main St., from Mrs. Grace Peterson and will start shortly in erecting a modern bungalow in which to live. He has traveled all over the country and thinks this place the most ideal of any he has found to live in.

The Board of trustees of Camptonville Union School District have Lee Bullington, local carpenter, with a helper in erecting a new foundation and porch on the house of their acerage on Main street. Mrs. Kate Livingston, local high school teacher resides in the house.

BOND DEBT OF COUNTIES DROPS

SACRAMENTO, May 22—(UP)—For the first time in years the bonded indebtedness of California counties is on the down grade.

Accumulation of financial transactions compiled by Ray L. Riley, state controller, shows that the bonded indebtedness of California counties decreased from $304,632,034.78 in 1930 to $291,842,813.97 las year after a steady increase had been shown in the bonded debt which amounted to only $50,841,291 in 1915.

Taxpayers of Nevada county are faced with a total bonded debt, including outstanding county and district bonds, amounting to $143,750 the report revealed.

While counties apparently are learning the danger of such debts, the same cannot be said of the state and municipal governments.

The bonded indebtedness of cities, for instance, increased from $413,665,832.34 in 1930, to $449,560,927, despite the fact that receipts fell off in the same period from $296,582,509 to $224,587,220.

Days of Gold

By BEHTHA JOY DELLEA

In the days of old;
The time, the new found Gold,
The Pioneers came to hold,
Some were rather old;
But all carried a large heavy load;
And many a thing they had sold
To come out West and dig for Gold
Men that were rugged and bold;
And not afraid of storm or cold.

Beside the clear running streams,
Stood the tired drinking teams,
And scattered here and there;
Under the shade of great gian trees;
Were little children fair,
And many cabins too;
Behind the hidden valleys were
glorious views;
Not only Mines; but Historic old
Shrines;
That was in the days of old,
The time, the new found Gold.

It is still the same today;
Men with packs have come to stay;
They come from city's far away,
To seek this hidden Gold;
Men that will dig and work
And count not time or pay,
Or other duties shirk;
Willing to rest on a bed of hay,
For the pleasure to earn and hold this Gold.

PLANE LANDS ON STREET

PLACERVILLE, May 22—(UP)—Aviation records just couldn't resist Billy Ganow, amateur air pilot of Georgetown, near here.

Recently he landed his plane in Georgetown, thereby establishing one record; and of all places, he had choosen the intersection of two streets for his landing field—something more in the way of records, according to local citizens.

However, according to Ganow, it was an unintentional landing, pointing to a damage wing as evidence.

Our Correspondents

FRENCH CORRAL

MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, May 16—The month of May entered with a generous rain fall, which was most welcome. The weather up to date has been all right. We believe the forecast in the old Ayer's Almanac would call it "Chinook." Well, all who visit this section of our country just go into ecstasies over the beauty of it.

Everything has taken on a brighter outlook and we are looking forward to better time.

The French Corral mine is working a crew of a dozen or more men and rapidly as possible are preparing to operate on a larger scale—The Superintendant, Mr. Maddock, is giving preference to our married men and it means much to the many families of our section.

Two of our prospectors think they have "struck it" and have named their "strike" "Fiddlers Dream."

So altogether the outlook is very cheerful.

As your correspondent has, owing to illness, been off duty for the past two weeks, many items must go unrecorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dudley spent the first week of his vacation at the home of Mrs. Dudley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton, and the second week at the home of Mr. Dudley's parents in North Bloomfield.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Miller and little Dorothy, have gone to Sacramento for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Franciscovich of Marysville, were last week visitors. They were accompanied by their nephew, Ed Jarvis, who will remain at the home of Mrs. K. Sullivan.

Edward Dillon, who has spent the past year or more at this place, has gone to Vallejo.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Jaynes and little Betty, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. Jayne's mother near Camptonville. Mrs. Jaynes Sr., accompanied them on their return.

Miss Frances Moulton of Sacramento spent the week end at the home of her parents in this place.

Elinore and Lloyd Haslett returned to French Corral Saturday evening after an absence of three weeks, where they were employed near the home of their sister, Mrs. Glenn Orr, near Clarksburg.

Dr. Albert Villain and wife and their son, Dr. Gerald Villain of Berkeley made atrip to French Corral Saturday and spent the evening and Sunday forenoon. As this was the boyhood home of Dr. Villain Sr., he and his son soon spent the time going over the old haunts of childhood days. This was Mrs. Villains first visit to this section at this time of the year and she was charmed with the beauty of our scenery. They spent the night at the Kneebone resort at Bridgeport and were profuse in their praise of the place.

Father O'Reilly held an early mass at Birchville to enable members to fulfill their Easter obligations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hoffman, his father, Clarence Hoffman, and sister Mrs. L. Stockdell came from Sacramento Sunday morning. All but Mrs. Stockdell returned to Sacramento Monday afternoon. Mrs. Stockdell remained with her husband and daughter who are located here for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wood and little baby, Dian, of Sweetland, were Sunday visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May have returned to French Corral after an absence of nearly a year. Mr. May will continue work in his mine in Gooseberry ravine.

We are pleased to know that the Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West and attendant visitors find welcome in our own Nevada County this week and further pleased that Mother's Day should mak their coming. Trust their visit will be attended with most happy memories.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO HONOR THOMAS BYRD

CAMPTONVILLE, May 18—On Memorial Day Tuesday, May 30th, at two o'clock in the afternoon, Gravel Range Lodge No. 59 F & A M will hold a memorial funeral service for their late Brother Thomas Jackson Byrd, who passed away a few months ago at the Masonic Home, and was cremated. The service will be held at the local Masonic Hall and continue to the cemetery where the ashes of the well known pioneer will be interred in the family plot with Masonic honors. The many friends and general public is invited to be present at this service.

CAMPTONVILLE, May 18—Chas. Leadshaw, well known state lion hunter returned to this section Tuesday after spending a couple of weeks in the upper country.

Mrs. Grace Peterson is having a complete new porch and roof built around the J. P. Brown house on Main street. R. E. Malaby, one of the tenants of the house is doing the work.

G. T. Langley is erecting a new dwelling for himself and family on his Bear Park property. He started the building last fall, but unfortunately during the heavy snow, a large tree fell across it and demolished the building. Other improvements have been made about Bear Park, and it is assuming an aspect of a very unique camp ground.

M. R. Carlson recently completed a new dwelling on a vacant piece of property south of the Log Cabin, and is now residing there with his family.

Othere improvements are expected to be forthcoming in keeping with the past reputation of this section as being the cleanest and best kept town in the mountains.

Judge Reglan Tuttle of Nevada City, accompanied by Judge Preston was in town Wednesday on a short visit on their way to Downieville.

BURGLAR TAKES PIES

OROVILLE, May 22—(UP)—If you happen to see a suspicious looking character with strawberry juice dripping from the corners of his mouth, it might be well to notify the local police.

The Oroville sleuths are searching for a burglar who recently entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Neet and made off with two fresh strawberry pies.

ALBINO COYOTE

PORTOLA—(UP)—Tales of a "ghost coyote" have been heard in this city for some time. Recently Roy P. Cayton killed the animal. It was pure white.
